

International Journal of Computer Science and Electronics Engineering (JCSEE) - Home

International Scientific Academy of Engineering and Technology (ISAET) provides free access to scientific research information to the international scientific research community without any financial, legal or technical barriers. International Journal of Computer Science and Electronics Engineering (JCSEE) is scholarly open access, peer-reviewed, interdisciplinary, bimonthly and fully refereed journal with ISSN 2320-401X (Printed Version) ISSN 2320-4028 (Online Version). This journal is freely distributed on the internet and mobile digital media. The submitted original articles are double blind peer-reviewed within approximately ONE month of submission and the accepted articles are published on the internet immediately upon receiving the final version of the article. All ISAET conference papers are also published in the journals. Please submit the research papers for JCSEE at info@isaet.org and specify the name of the conference as well as journal at the time of submission.

The journal focusing on theories, methods and applications in Computer, Bio-Medical, Electrical, Electronics and Instrument Engineering. Apart from that all topics related to Software, Intelligent Systems and Information Technology are also covered in this journal.

The author guidelines are mentioned in the Author Guidelines section of the www.isaet.org Home page.
